My dear Kellenberger:

It was very thoughtful of you to send us those snapshots and we appreciated seeing them very much even if they did make us slightly envious by comparison with our own productions.

As we already discussed with you at Royaumont we are moving to Stanford but the date has now been set for February 1. This leads me to reopen the question whether you might have some interest in a visit to the United States and in particular to Stanford. I have to say that I do not have any immediate provision for such an arrangement but hearing favorably from you would be the most important step in setting the wheels in motion. We had also had some discussion of even more durable arrangements and let me add that I would lend my enthusiastic support if there were any prospects of your interests in them.

With all best regards.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
